

ADVANCE GUARD OF TURKISH AND BULGARIAN DELEGATION ARRIVES

Geneva, May 23.—The advance guard of the Turkish and Bulgarian peace delegations have arrived in Switzerland en route to Paris. The Turkish envoys protested to-day against the partition of Turkey and the reported intention of the allies to relieve Turkey of the administration of Constantinople. The Bulgarians are insisting upon the retention of territory in the Dobruja district which is the Roumanians took over following the second Balkan war. The delegates are due to arrive at Paris about the end of this month.

AIRPLANE SIGHTED IN MID-OCEAN BY
CABLE SHIP FARADAY

London, May 23.—The cable ship Faraday reported today that she sighted the lights of an aeroplane early Monday morning, about midway between New Foundland and coast of Ireland, the wireless press announced today. The Faraday gave the exact position of the plane at 50.25 north, and 30.02 west.

If the Faraday's lookout was not mistaken, the aeroplane must be the Sopwith biplane in which Harry G. Hawker and Mackenzie Grieve met death, in attempting to fly from New Foundland to Ireland. The Faraday's report is the first seemingly authentic word regarding the missing aeroplane since she left St. Johns last Sunday evening and apparently disposes of the theory that Hawker and his navigator dropped into the sea shortly after starting.

Traveling at a speed of about 100 miles an hour, the average Hawker hoped to maintain, the Sopwith biplane would have been in about the position the Faraday indicates early Monday.

Hope for the gallant aviators has now been given up as they have not been heard from since they set out from New Foundland last Sunday evening to fly to Ireland.

TWO ARMIES ARE MAKING CONVERGING
DRIVE ON PETROGRAD

By Lloyd McGriffe.
London, May 23.—Two armies are making a converging movement upon Petrograd and advices today indicated that the Bolshevik troops will be compelled to evacuate the Petrograd-Pskov-Minsk line.

The Finns are advancing from the north and the Estonians are driving from the southwest.

The Poles are overwhelming the Ukrainians, General Haller's divisions that were sent into Poland from France, apparently everywhere victorious in the fighting against the Ukrainians.

There were severe fighting in progress around Kiev where the Ukrainians are attempting an offensive.

Hokolai Lenine and Leon Trotsky, heads of the Bolshevik regime at Moscow are now reported to be in personal command of the Bolshevik armies.

LEGAL BATTLE FOR WRESTLER'S LIFE
BEGINS IN TIFFIN

Tiffin, O., May 23.—The legal battle for the life of Walter O. Bingham began here today. The defense prepared to combat the elaborate testimony offered by the state to prove that Bingham took the life of his wife through the use of a fatal jiu jitsu strangle hold. The prosecution played its strongest card when Jess Dorman professional wrestler, took the stand and told of Bingham's knowledge of the peculiar hold which the state claimed was used to kill Mrs. Bingham. Dorman said that the hold was explained following a wrestling match at Attica in 1916 at which Bingham was referee.

YOUNG TURKS ARE BACK IN CONTROL

Constantinople, May 22. via London, May 23.—The committee of Union and Progress (Young Turks) have regained most of their old time power in Turkey and reports from the coast and interior indicated that if the peace terms are unfavorable, a critical situation will develop.

Both the Ottomans and the Christians are aware of the dangers, but temporarily they are on friendly terms.

Students of the situation declare that "even at this eleventh hour an endeavor should be made not to 'Balkanize' Turkey."

TRAINMEN TO DISCUSS
NEW SCALE OF WAGES

Columbus, May 23.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in convention here will devote the next week to discussion of the new scale of wages. It is said today. President Lee said the scale could not be completed with the satisfaction of all departments for several days.

Brakemen ask that the scope of yard engine trips be limited because of alleged injustice to freight train crews, in forcing them to make extended trips.

The Columbus chamber of commerce has asked the government to send five airplanes from Wright Field Dayton, to Columbus next Monday, to entertain the visitors and drop literature.

NEW ANTIOCH
PRESIDENT HAS RESIGNED POST

The plan by which Antioch College was to be taken over by the Young Men's Christian Association, for a national university, has apparently collapsed, and Dr. Grant Perkins, who was expected to be president of the institution under the new arrangement has resigned to the board of trustees.

Dr. Perkins' explanation of his resignation was that as he saw no funds forthcoming from the Y. M. C. A., and no steps taken to raise the $1,000,000 endowment, he could not afford to give any more time to the project.

He and his family are still at Yellow Springs, where they have been occupying the president's house for several weeks, since it was vacated by Congressman Fess, former president of Antioch. Dr. Perkins stated Friday afternoon that he and his family would return to their old home and that he would continue in his present position as director of Sunday school work for the Methodist Episcopal church in the Cincinnati area.

C. H. Little, a local member of the Antioch board of trustees said today that the college authorities entered into the project in entire good faith, with the belief that the Y. M. C. A. as a body was behind the plan, but that it now appears that it was a project of individual Y. men, of whom only a few are known to the trustees.

W. W. Weaver of the Cleveland Y. M. C. A. placed the project before the trustees, and a Mr. Truesdale, a manufacturer of Conneaut, who was also interested in the project was made a member of the trustee board.

A resolution was adopted by the Board of Trustees thanking Dr. Perkins for the effort he made in attempting to establish the college on a Y. M. C. A. basis and exonerating him from any blame for the failure thus far of making the project a success.

MANY LEGISLATORS
PREFER TO STAY ON TOP OF THE FENCE

New York, May 23.—A poll taken by the New York World and published today shows a large percentage of congressmen opposed to committing themselves on the repeal of war time prohibition, as recommended by the president, but a majority of nearly 2 to 1 against repeal by those who stated their views.

The results are:
Senate: For repeal 18; against repeal 30; non committal 32; absent 16.
House: For repeal 104; against repeal 199; non committal 108; absent 18.

"Roughly," says the World, "these results indicate the congressmen are two to one against repealing the law."

The senate poll in detail follows:
For repeal: Brandegee, Calder, Culberson, Edge, Fall, France, Hitchcock, King, Moses, Penrose, Phelan, Reed, Ramsdell, Shields, Stanley, Thomas, Wadsworth, Walsh (Massachusetts)—18.

Against repeal: Beckham, Borah, Capper, Chamberlain, Cummins, Curtis, Dial, Frelinghuysen, Gronis, Hale, Harrison, Jones (Washington), Kirby, New, Newberry, Page, Poinsett, Sheppard, McKellar, McNary, Sherman, Smith (South Carolina), Shoot, Townsend, Walsh of Montana, Williams, Watson, Trimmer, Sutherland and Sterling—30.

Absent: Ball, Elkins, Fernald, Gay Garry, Harris, Johnson of South Dakota, La Follette, McLean, Nelson, Robinson, Owen, Smith of Arizona, Smith (Maryland), Volcott and Myers—16.

The remaining 32 senators were non committal.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS
DEMAND THAT PEACE
TREATY BE SIGNED

Berlin, May 22.—(via London, May 23).—Demonstrations by the Independent Socialists in favor of signing the peace treaty, are taking on a revolutionary character.

During the demonstration today a great crowd marched past the government building singing the Marseillaise. Some of the leaders contended for "a speedy peace by a world revolution."

Banners were borne calling upon the Majority Socialists to resign from the government.

The German counter proposals to the peace terms are said to cover 50 typewritten sheets of paper.

BEER RIOTS IN LONDON.

London, May 23.—The cabinet today began an investigation into "beer riots" in Lancashire, according to the Daily News.

Lancashire workmen raided a number of saloons demanding more beer. Then it was decided to send a deputation to parliament to protest against beer rationing.

THE MAN WHO MADE THE TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT POS-SIBLE.

Glenn H. Curtiss, etc.

Glenn H. Curtiss, the one man who more than any other made possible the wonderful trans-Atlantic feat of the naval NC seaplanes. Comparatively few people know the meaning of "NC." It is the abbreviation of Naval-Curtiss. And another tribute to the inventor and perfecter of the powerful planes. The Curtiss factories are daily turning out aircrafts for the army and navy.

FIGHT WILL DRAW
GATE RECEIPTS OF HALF MILLION

Toledo, O., May 23.—Tex Rickard was wearing the smile that won't come off today.

And here's the reason why. Seat reservations today, seven weeks from the date of the fight, had already totaled the same amount as the entire receipts of the Jeffries-Johnson fight—an amount slightly in excess of $270,000. Rickard who returned late last night from New York with a bale of reservations under his arm opined today that the Fourth of July battle here will draw not less than a $500,000 gate.

Sparring partners are arriving on almost every train at the Dempsey camp. Two rounds yesterday with Willie Doyle only whetted big Jack's appetite and today he planned to limber up proper. Just now, however, the daily six mile road jaunt is the main item on his daily program.

Prospects today were that Jess Willard when he arrives will be a close neighbor to Challenger Dempsey. Willard's representatives are considering leasing the Casino, only a few hundred yards from the Oakland Club, as training quarters for the champion.

Rickard still maintained his former attitude on the referee question today. He told "Dave" Fitzgerald who wants the job that he would leave the matter up to the fighters and step in only in the event of a disagreement. Fitzgerald claims the endorsement of the event of a disagreement, Fitzgerald claims the endorsement of the event of a disagreement.

Mrs. Emma Brewer of Yellow Springs and Mrs. William Hull of this city are sisters of the deceased. DENY STORY THAT MEMBERS OF U.S. PEACE
DELEGATION RESIGN

London, May 23.—Vigorous denial is made of the report that nine members of the American peace delegation have resigned, said a Central News despatch from Paris today.

The only member who has resigned is Dr. Bullitt, who disagreed with his colleagues over the Russian policy, the despatch added, but Dr. Bullitt favors recognition of the Soviet regime at Moscow.

TOLEDO STRIKE IS NEAR SETTLEMENT

Toledo, O., May 23.—Announcement of resumption Monday of work at the plants of the Willys-Overland Company and the Autolite corporation was expected today. The reopening of the factories, it is understood, is pending a settlement of the hours of work and it may be some time before they are again running full blast. Conferences looking to a settlement are still going on.

STORM OF CRITICISM IS BREWING IN CONGRESS
OVER LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Washington, May 25.—The long impending storm that has been steadily gathering in the senate over the proposed entry of the United States into the modified League of Nations covenant, will break today with the thunder of condemnation accompanied by the lightning of criticism, it was predicted by those Republican and Democratic senators who declared themselves still to be uncompromisingly anti-leaguers.

Not only will fiery oratorical objections to the American people being committed to the league plan be voiced, it was stated; not alone will President Wilson be criticized for having agreed to the contemplated pact, nor will verbal attacks be confined to the altered covenant having been made part of the peace treaty or to demands that it be separated from the treaty and considered separately but determined efforts will be made forcibly to point out the exact whys and wherefores of the persistent opposition of these sections of the covenant, which, in the judgement of the anti-leaguers, the senate should not ratify, it was added by these senators.

Senator Sherman, Republican, Illinois, planned to provide an opening wedge for the "freest and fullest" discussion of every aspect of treaty and covenant up to and following the return of the president from Paris by offering the following resolution:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of the senate that it is desirable that the treaty terminating the condition of war between the United States of America and the German government be separated from the covenant of the League of Nations so that each may be acted upon by the senate severally in the procedure leading to their final disposition and a vote thereon ratifying or rejecting the same."

To secure immediate consideration of the proposed resolution by Senator Sherman would require unanimous consent. He said he did not expect to receive it as doubtless an objection would emanate from the democratic side that would refer it to the senate foreign relations committee which the Republican committee on committees was still engaged in organizing.

That organization was regarded as certain to ensure Senator Lodge, of Mass., ample support—in committee, at least—of his avowed advocacy of radical changes being made in the league covenant before it is finally considered by the senate.

Even if the Sherman resolution is blocked temporarily by an administration senator today, as immediate consideration was blocked of the resolution sponsored by Senator Johnson, Progressive Republican, of California, on Tuesday, which provided for submission of the complete official text of the peace treaty to the senate without further delay, Senator Sherman declared he would force action ultimately on it, as Senator Johnson was expected to do on his.

If Senator Sherman is able to deliver the address on the league of nations, he had carefully and studiously prepared, he will rest content for the present, it was ascertained. Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, and Senator Johnson, were also scheduled to give forcible utterances to their opposition to the league today. It was announced, but it was doubtful whether either of them or Senator Sherman would be accorded the privilege of speaking first.

NEW FIRE MOTOR
TRUCK TO BE ADDED TO FIRE DEPARTMENT

First steps toward increasing the efficiency of the Xenia Fire Department, by the addition of a new motor fire truck, were taken at the regular meeting of the City Commission held Thursday night.

Two ordinances were read for the first time. One authorizes the City Manager to purchase a fire truck and the other authorizes a bond issue of $10,000 for the purpose of such a truck.

Members of the Commission have visited several fire truck factories recently and have obtained data on several different makes of fire apparatus. A combination truck is the type being considered and the City Manager has been instructed to purchase the most efficient piece adaptable to local needs, from the lowest bidder.

No further business of importance was transacted at the meeting.

Berlin, May 23, via London.—Germany is willing that the former kaiser and other German officials be placed on trial for their war crimes, but demands a neutral court, said the Lokal Anzeiger today.

MRS. RUTH WEST, OF YELLOW SPRINGS, DEAD

Mrs. Ruth West, widow of the late Moses West, aged and respected Yellow Springs resident, died at her home in Yellow Springs at 2:15 o'clock, Friday morning. She had been ill for some time, having suffered a stroke of paralysis, and her death was partly due to old age.

Mrs. West had lived in Yellow Springs many years, coming there from Jamestown. Her husband preceded her in death, two years and one daughter, Miss Elizabeth West, who lived at home with her mother, is the nearest surviving relative.

Funeral services will be held at the late home Monday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock, and burial will be made in Glen Forest Cemetery, Yellow Springs.

BODIES OF NINE
PERSONS RECOVERED FROM BURNED FACTORY

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 23.—Firemen, police, soldiers and volunteer rescuers searching in the smoldering ruins of the Douglas Starch works, the $3,000,000 plant wrecked last night by "dry dust" explosion had recovered the bodies of nine employees at an early hour today.

It is feared that many of the score or more reported missing were caught in the ruins of the building and killed. Fifty persons were injured, of which it is feared ten will die.

Property loss at the plant is estimated at $1,500,000 while nearby buildings were damaged to the extent of $500,000.

At the time of the explosion just after the day shift had been relieved 150 persons were in the building. Fire which started almost immediately following the explosion trapped many of these in the burning building and it is believed that when a check up is completed of those known to have been in the building at the time of the explosion the death list will be greatly increased. Scores of those caught in the building, were severely injured and on being rescued were rushed to hospitals, private dwellings and to their homes. Until these are all accounted for, officials of the company say any estimate of the killed is "mere guess work."

AWARDED CROIX DE
GUERRE WITH PALM

ITALIAN PEACE DELEGATION IS
REORGANIZED WITH NEW MEMBERS

Rome, May 23.—The Italian peace delegation has been reorganized by the appointment of three new members, it was stated today in authoritative circles. The new members are said to be Signor Crespi, Signor Paratore and Commander Di Martino.

Premier Orlando, head of the delegation, has issued an official statement outlining the work of the council of four in Paris and setting forth the difficulties encountered.

The delegates, said Signor Orlando, stand and in the meantime these obstacles and in the meantime are trusting to the discipline of the country. The officials, continued the premier, are constantly inspired by the declarations made in the chamber of deputies.

A cablegram several days ago announced the resignation of three Italian peace delegates.

Here's A Gentle Laxative For Elderly People

A daily free movement of the bowels becomes a serious problem as you step from middle-life into old age, and much dependence can no longer be placed on nature herself. The bowels find artificial aid necessary.

The stronger the physic, as old people soon learn, the greater the contraction of the bowels thereafter, and so the wise purposely avoid salt waters, pills and other harsh purgatives. Many have learned to place absolute reliance on the gentle, but positive action of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin acid by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

It produces an agreeable movement as nearly natural and free as high pharmaceutical skill can make it. Thousands use it regularly, in the small dose prescribed, and keep themselves in fine health and good cheer, and entirely free from constipation.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS
In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the war by sacrificing profits and absorbing vast losses, we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 26 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

SOLDIER WRITES INTERESTINGLY TO HIS MOTHER

Wilber R. Chambliss, 234 Co. M. P. O., A. P. O. 705, A. E. F. France, has written interestingly to his mother, Mrs. William Chambliss of West Second street. He said in part:

"I have been a guard on leave trains, making two trips this week. I left Bordeaux last Saturday at 9 o'clock in the evening and arrived at Biarritz Sunday morning at seven. This is one of the world's best summer resorts and is located on the Bay of Biscay, about four miles north of the Spanish border. It sure is a beautiful place, has a fine bathing beach and puts me in mind of Cedar Point for scenery. Took a climb around over the cliffs and could look over in Spain and see several towns. We left Biarritz Sunday night and arrived in Bordeaux Monday morning.

"The other trip was down to the Pyrennes mountains. We left Bordeaux Wednesday night at 7:50 and arrived at Lourdes, Thursday morning at 10:40. Lourdes is the holy city of France. We then had to get off the train and take electric cars up the mountains to Cautelets, which is about 3,000 feet above the sea level. It took us forty minutes to run about eight miles. I thought I was seeing scenery when we were riding through the Alleghenies in the States, but they are just mere hills compared to the Pyrennes. They are the second largest mountains in Europe. I stood on the back platform of the car going up and believe me it was some dizzy ride. Before we got half way up we began to run into snow and when we reached Cautelets there was about three inches of snow on the streets. I stayed up there about three hours and walked all over the town. Saw Harry K. Thaw's hotel up there, which is some swell building. Well it got too cold up there for me and I took the trolley and came back down the valley to Lourdes. This is one of the most beautiful cities I have seen in France, and that is saying quite a lot, because I have seen some beautiful ones. We stayed in Lourdes until 8:15 Thursday night, then loaded up and arrived in Bordeaux this morning at 6:30.

"Perhaps you don't know what I mean by a leave train. Well the government leases a train to haul soldiers on pass. They leave for seven days and each day there are enough going on leave to make a train, and likewise enough that have had their pass out to make a train coming back. So you see we take down a new bunch and bring back the ones who have had their leave out, therefore a train leaves Bordeaux every day and a train arrives every day. It sure is an interesting job and the people down here treat us like kings, especially we M. P.'s having everything our own way. All we guards do is to keep order on the train, and keep the boys from drinking too much cognac.

"I have an idea I will get to make another trip about Sunday, and hope to get to go to a different place. I have some pictures and souvenirs which I will bring home with me, that is if they don't wear out before I get home. They tell us now we are going home in July."

SAYS IT WOULD BE SAME AS SIGNING DEATH SENTENCE

Paris, May 23.—"Those who will sign this treaty will sign the death sentence of many millions of German men, women and children," declared Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, in the formal protest to the allies against the economic conditions of the peace treaty, which was rejected in another communication forwarded by the allies last night.

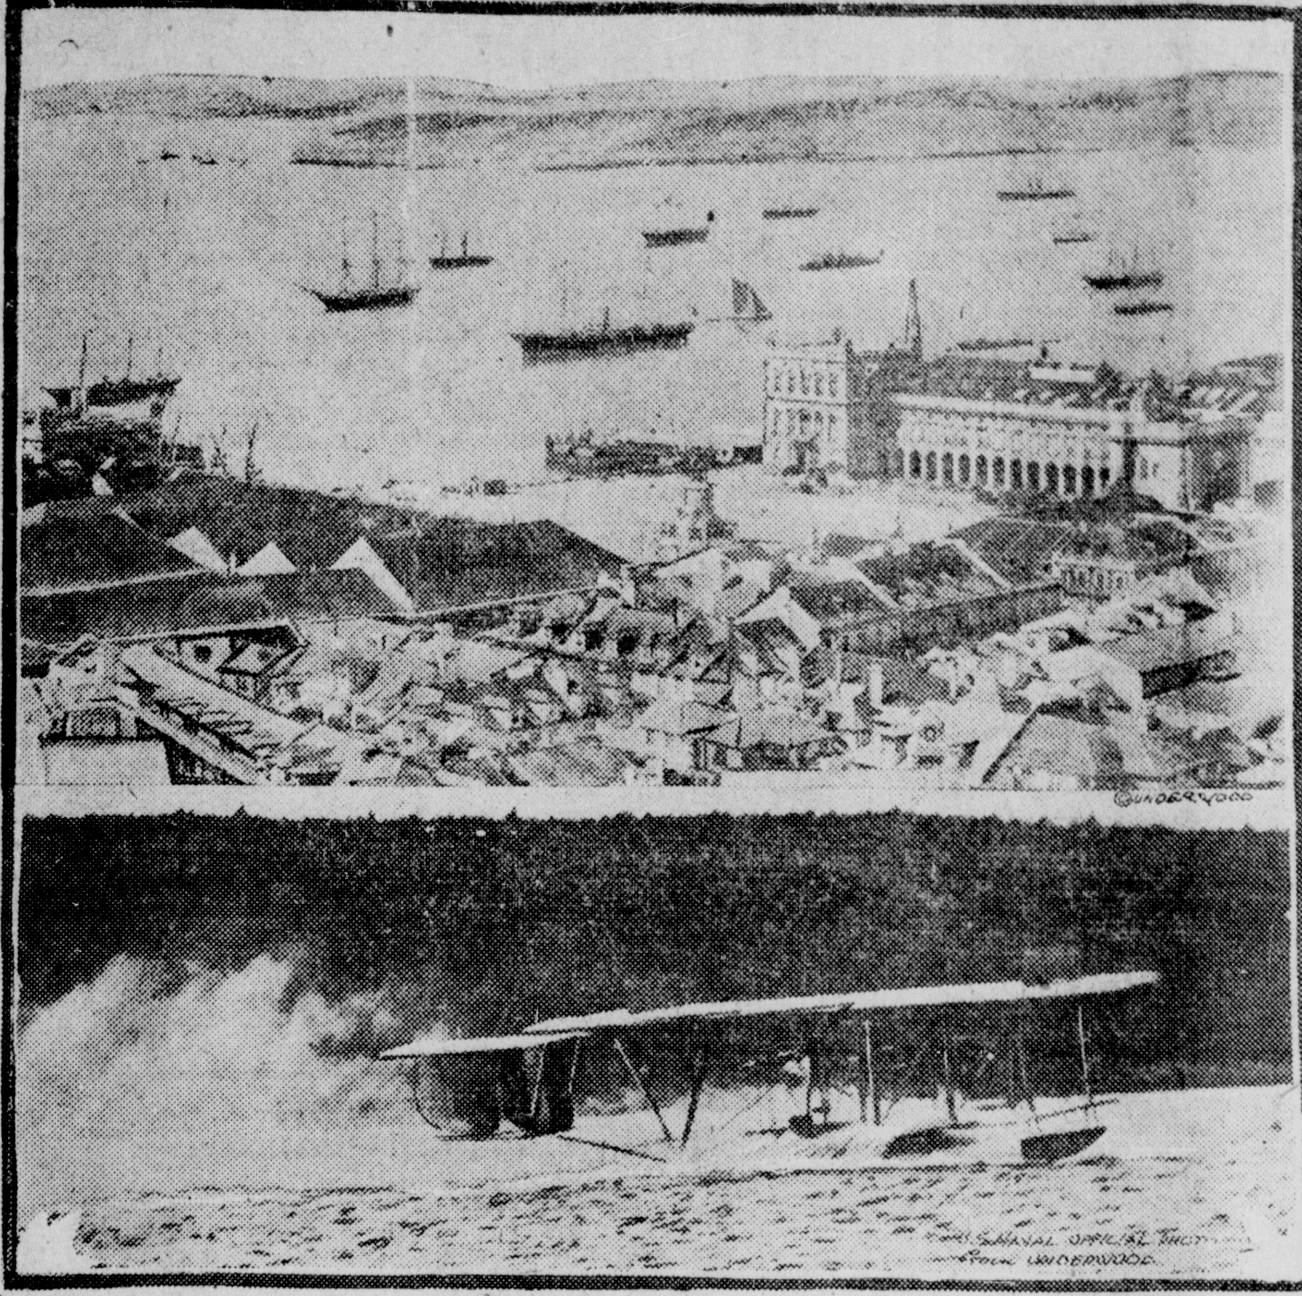

The text of both the German protest, which was quite lengthy, and the allied reply, signed by Premier Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, were made public today.

Protect Wild Life.

In New Zealand there are now 20 acclimation societies, organized for the purpose of protecting the native wild life of the country and introducing and protecting new game birds and animals. The societies are all chartered by the government and are under its supervision. They have introduced into the colony a large number of pheasants of different varieties, California quail, Australian opossums, woodcock, rainbow trout, salmon, etc. The societies pay bounties for the destruction of hawks and other enemies of useful birds and mammals.

Status of the Shoes.

Kathleen and her mamma had just returned from a shopping trip bringing home a pair of shoes for Kathleen, but only on approval. Upon arriving home Doris, Kathleen's older sister, out of curiosity immediately started to open the package. Kathleen indignantly said, "Doris, you just leave those shoes alone; mamma only brought them home on a furlough."

The Baby Seal.

When seals are born they are snow-white, which makes them invisible on the ice on which they lie. Their eyes and noses are black, and when the little ones are suddenly alarmed they close their eyes, bury their noses and lie quite still.

PEPTIRON IS GOOD

This Real Iron Tonic Combines Merit Economy and "Pep."

Made from a formula that uses iron in most digestible form, pepsin and gentian, great stomach tonics, nux and celery, the best vegetable remedies for the nerves, and also manganese and other valuable nutrients—there's no question of the value of Peptiron as a blood builder and strengthener.

The larger size of Peptiron contains enough for a full month's treatment while other so-called iron preparations contain only one-half or less.

The "pep" or promptness with which Peptiron does its work is noted by everyone who takes it.

From the first dose the system responds to the treatment, and you realize you are at last using a medicine that begins right, continues and ends right. Better get a bottle of Peptiron today. Take two Peptiron after each meal—then comes good blood, good appetite, and—pep. adv

MEN WHO DO THINGS.

Shakespeare says that one of his characters finds sermons in stones and good in everything. But there are many better things than stones in which to find sermons. One that we think an admirable occasion in which to find a sermon that should speak volumes to all, is the death of a good man, whether you knew him or not, but only knew his reputation to be good, and felt that the death of such a man was a distinct loss to the world, but that the influence of his good life had been so stimulating to others that eulogy of it is a practical sermon to persuade people to do likewise.

A great and good man passed away last week in the death of Mr. Henry J. Heinz, of the "57 Varieties" of table comforts, some of which have often afforded you a gratifying relish for appetite. His reputation as a consecrated christian man had gone abroad so largely that the Brewers Association, feeling that such a man must be an anti-saloon man, issued orders boycotting all of his "57 Varieties" all over the United States. This, in itself, was a sermon to all, that here was a man of fine reputation, worthy of imitation.

The story of Mr. Heinz's life is peculiarly American. His imagination, which led him to be a pioneer in the canning and distribution of food products; his religious and social interests, which paralleled those of Mr. Wanamaker; his attitude toward his employees, and his various charities all represent that large wisdom capacity that marks men of this type. That he should be the recipient of a large increment from the wealth he created is a very small part of the value of such a man to his own state and country. That America produces such men or allows them to develop is not the least important thing to recall at this juncture.

There is another aspect too in which the life of such a man as Mr. Heinz, and the late Mr. Woolworth, recently deceased, may be considered a sermon to others—their reputations as Captains of Industry—starting poor and by their genius and industry building up great businesses of nation-wide service. Genius is a God-given faculty, but alas often proves but a scatter brain one, of little advantage to its possessor or the world. But when coupled with industry gives the world great men like those mentioned.

Though you may have known clever men who were indolent, you never knew a great man who was so. Industry is the philosopher's stone that accomplishes wonders and suffers no want to break into its dwelling. It keeps the body healthy, the mind clear and the purse full. And God has so made the mind of man that a peculiar deliciousness results in the contemplation of the fruits of his personal industry. Ah, there is the compensation. The feeling that his life has not been a failure, but that he leaves results that are worthwhile. This is as honey to the taste.

The life accomplishment of such men as John Wanamaker, known the nation over as a great merchant and self-made millionaire; and that of Edison, the wizard of Menlo Park, to whose ingenious industry the entire world is debtor; are open books of sermons to all that industry stands not far from Godliness as a life feature greatly to be desired.

It is too early to tell the full story that is revealed in part in the very simple statement "that America's job of revictualizing the peoples of Europe will end soon after June 30, when the last ship to be loaded by the American Relief Association will sail from New York," but most people have some faint idea of what a man like Mr. Hoover means to this country and to the world at large. Yet Mr. Hoover is only one of a number of Americans of varying origins and national strains who are roughly classified as "captains of industry" since all possess one common and extraordinary trait—an amazing capacity for organization and executive direction of any enterprise that they may be inclined to. Mr. Hoover is a great man. What would we have done without him? His wonderful work should be a sermon on industry to all of us.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

FREDERICK TELLS NEIL THAT SCOTT IS DANGEROUS.

CHAPTER XCV.

"I undressed and slipped on a kimono. I did not attempt to go to bed. It would be no use. I could not sleep. I wept a little as I sat in the dark. Wept over my foolishness in taking that letter, which not even yet would I admit was such a heinous sin as Neil seemed to think. I also cried a bit over the thought that in spite of my lovely home, and all our money, I never could realize my social aspirations. I had asked Mr. and Mrs. Powers to a small dinner I gave aunt and received their polite regrets. Neil had been really angry. I think he was more disappointed than I, although he showed it differently.

"Give me a few years more and I'll show Powers and that old-fogy bunch where they get off!" he had declared when without a word of comment I laid their regrets before him.

"They don't even plead a previous engagement," I returned. "It wouldn't have hurt quite so much if they had."

"It doesn't hurt me! they are snobs anyway. Family doesn't count for everything now-a-days."

"But Neil both your family and mine are as good as his." Then, "It can't be that," I added.

"What is it, then? I haven't quite so much money as he has, perhaps, but I will have in time."

"It isn't the money either, Neil. I am sure of that."

"What is it, then? You aren't thinking of that fool idea that it is because"—he stopped and I could not get him to talk further.

This all came back to me as I sat waiting for Mr. Frederick to leave. Waiting also to question Neil as to what he had meant when he said Mr. Scott was a bad man to make an enemy.

I also thought of my plans for my son. I think that hurt worst of all. To know that I could not do what I wished for him. I wanted him to have as companions the children of people like the Powers'. Educated, well brought up, refined boys and girls, not those whose parents were merely vulgarly rich, and so could afford the same schools as the others.

Then I recalled what father had said about "going slowly." I wondered if I had tried if I could have held Neil back—tried when we were first married. I had spent money as he made it, increasing our expenses—those which I controlled—with each year. Yet money, save when I had planned a society campaign, had never been a sine qua non with me. Neil, his love, our happiness together, had always been first. Had anyone asked me to choose I should have chosen poverty with love rather than riches without it. But I had had no choice. Neil's insatiable ambition had urged him on and on until money had seemed to come so easily that I really gave no thought to my spending, or to my charge accounts.

But only that very day I had received a polite notice from a large firm, one with whom I had spent thousands, to please remit. It had been the first appeal of the kind from a firm of standing, and I rather wondered at it. I had not mentioned it yet to Neil, but must do so in the morning, I thought as it recurred to me. My own account was not equal to such a demand upon it, although Neil was always most generous.

Finally, when I almost despaired of their conference ending before morning I heard the library door open, and their voices in the hall as Neil followed his guest down to the door. I crept half way down the stairs to listen.

"It's bad business, Forbes. Scott never bluffs. He declares he will publish you unless he gets his money back, and won't promise not to, even if he does. He says he feels it his duty to others whom you may swindle as you have him. Plain words, Forbes, you know how true they are. He threatens to bring in Mrs. Orton—too—it looks bad."

"There is nothing he can say about Blanche—as far as I am concerned. Can prove, I mean?"

"Who do you suppose will believe there is nothing between you? Gad, I shall be sorry for your wife, Forbes, if Scott keeps his word. It's tough on her." Neil did not answer, but I thought I heard something very like a groan. "Will she believe there is nothing but business taking you to spend your time at Mrs. Orton's, with the sort of men and—women one sees there? I know the men are asked because they have money. Those beautiful—if one likes that sort—women help to drag it from their pockets, but will the world, will Mrs. Forbes believe that?"

I felt like shouting "I do believe it! I believe Neil is true to me, and nothing else matters. Instead I went softly back to my room and when Neil came up a moment later I was in bed.

"I thought you would never come," I said as I switched on the light.

"Perhaps it would be better if I hadn't," which, enigmatic remark was all he said to me, not even replying when I asked a question. I buried my face in the pillow and cried myself to sleep.

"CLEAN-UP WEEK" STAGED IN GERMANY

Squad of Americans cleaning up their "company street."

The American "Watch on the Rhine" has instituted an era of genuine cleanliness in the towns they are occupying that is causing even methodical Germans to take notice. Their company streets and barracks grounds are a shining example of spotlessness. "Polishing up" the streets is as much a part of the daily routine as guard duty, and is performed as carefully.

GENTLEMEN AGREE DOWN IN KENTUCKY

Kentucky has gained a widespread reputation for its women, horses and code of honor. Among the male population a "gentlemen's agreement" is as binding as a formal legal document.

And it held good in a case between the wet and dry elements. Down in Christian county an agreement was entered into by these two factions that if the prohibition election which was scheduled for October 1918, be called off, all the saloons would be closed April 1 of this year. Consequently, on April 1 the saloons were closed. Several of them have already been remodeled for restaurant, billiard and soft drink purposes. Because of the great demand for stores there will be practically no vacant buildings.

The demand for stores is only the natural result of prohibition—no booze, more money to spend for clothes and food.

Losing his balance and falling on the hot tin roof, Roy Mendenhall city fireman, received a severely burned hand at the fire at the home of H. E. Keirnan on West Second street Thursday afternoon.

The fire started from sparks caused by burning rubbish in the stove and the fire department responded at 3:20 o'clock. The blaze was a stiff one, and burned about half of the back part of the roof off, but the firemen were able to extinguish the blaze with

CEDARVILLE PLANS QUITE A CELEBRATION FOR HER SOLDIERS

Cedarville is planning quite a celebration and welcome home for her soldier boys who have returned home on Decoration Day, May 30th, 1919.

In the morning the decoration of the soldiers graves will take place. The main exercise will be held at the North cemetery. At 9 o'clock there will be a platoon drill in the public square, by returned soldiers. At 9:30 the parade will start, led by the Sons of Veterans Band, several members of which have been overseas. All the returned soldiers are asked to march. The veterans of the Civil War will be conveyed in automobiles.

The Sons of Veterans are requested to march, and also bring flowers. All school children and as many citizens as is possible are asked to march. Show your patriotism by being a part of the parade—do not rush ahead and try and pass it. Every one is requested to bring flowers to the room formerly occupied by Ray McKee as a hardware store, as early as possible Friday morning, May 30th. Remember you are only asked to bring flowers for the soldiers once a year. You can decorate the other graves at any time.

Rev. Charles Proudfoot, of Xenia, will deliver the Memorial sermon at the opera house at 7:30 o'clock, on Sabbath, May 25th, 1919.

Friendships of Youth.

Cultivate, kindly reader, those friendships of your youth; it is only in that generous time that they are found. How different the intimacies of after days are, and how much weaker the grasp of your own hand after it has been shaken in 20 years' commerce with the world and has squeezed and dropped a thousand equally careless palms. As you can seldom fashion your tongue to speak a new language after twenty, the heart refuses to receive friendships pretty soon; it gets too hard to yield to the impressions.—Thackeray.

Woes Laid to Dyspepsia.

How many serious family quarrels, marriages out of spite, and alterations of wills might have been prevented by a gentle dose of blue pill! What awful instances of chronic dyspepsia in the character of Hamlet and Othello! Banish dyspepsia from society and you have no crime, or at least no little that you would not consider it worth mentioning.—Charles Kingsley.

PEACE CONGRESS, NOW IN SES SIGN FACES TOUGH PROBLEMS

View of opening session of special session of Sixty-sixth congress. Arrow points to Representative Gillett of Massachusetts, new speaker.

President Wilson's recommendations, in his message to the new congress that the war prohibition act be repealed as far as light wines and beer are concerned and that the railroads be returned to their owners are only two of the important issues the new congress must handle. The special session which opened recently must also pass on the peace treaty. All in all, the session promises to be even more stormy than the ones of the congress which handled the mass of war legislation.

FISH AND GAME LAWS CODIFIED BY LEGISLATURE

Columbus, May 23.—After a hard legislative battle against unpopular amendments, Chief Warden A. C. Baxter, has succeeded in getting the legislature to pass the fish and game codification bill with a few minor changes as endorsed by the sportsmen of Ohio at their convocation held at the Deshler hotel in January.

Baxter says that Ohio will now have the best fish and game laws of any state in the union. He championed the bill, which was drawn by the department of agriculture under his direction and waged a ceaseless fight in its favor before both branches of the legislature.

The bill provides for broad powers in establishing game sanctuaries and spawning grounds for fish. Baxter says the refuge or sanctuary plan for game will be one of the greatest strides forward in conservation and propagation that could be taken and sanctuaries will be established in all parts of the state.

Important Revisions.

Scatter Sunshine.

"It don't hurt none to be agreeable," a good old New England farmer remarked to a gruff neighbor one day, "and it helps a lot when things is breakin' bad."

Many a high-browed philosopher of the moment could with profit take those few golden words to heart. Hurt none? Well, we should say not! When all the world seems a deep blue-black, and when human interest appears a sort of fairy tale, how a pleasant salutation will rouse us and make us feel that there's still a bit of heart in the owner of that voice—Exchange.

You Need Not Suffer from Catarrh

But You Must Drive It Out of Your Blood to Get Rid of It Permanently.

You have probably been in the habit of applying external treatments, trying to cure your catarrh. You have used sprays, washes and lotions and possibly been temporarily relieved. But after a short time you had another attack and wondered why. You must realize that catarrh is an infection of the blood and to get permanent relief the catarrh infection must be driven out of the blood. The quicker you come to understand this, the quicker you will get it out of your system. S. S. S., which has been in constant use for over fifty years, will drive the catarrhal poisons out of your blood, purifying and strengthening it, so it will carry vigor and health to the mucous membranes on its journeys through your body and nature will soon restore you to health. You will be relieved of the droppings of mucus in your throat, sores in nostrils, bad breath, hawking and spitting.

All reputable druggists carry S. S. S. in stock and we recommend you give it a trial immediately.

The chief medical adviser of the Company will cheerfully answer all letters on the subject. There is no charge for the medical advice. Address Swift Specific Company, 251 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

DR. ANNA HOWARD SHAW DECORATED WITH DISTINGUISHED SERVICE MEDAL

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, wearing the Distinguished Service Medal just after she had been decorated by Secretary of War Baker in his office at the War Department in Washington recently.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, was awarded the honor in recognition of her services as head of the women's section of the Council of National Defense.

The Gorilla's Thumb.

The gorilla and chimpanzee, which belong to the higher order of apes, although having many points of resemblance to man, cannot twiddle their thumbs. In the gorilla the thumb is short and does not reach much beyond the bottom of the first joint of the forefinger. It is very much restricted in its movements, and the animal can neither twiddle its thumbs nor turn them round so that the tips describe a circle. There are the same number of bones in the hand of the gorilla as in the hand of a man, but the thumbs of the monkey have no separate flexor, or bending muscle. This is why a monkey always keeps the thumb on the same side as the fingers and never bends it round any object that may be grasped.

Telephone Tattle.

Thieves and beggars have a "cant" language of their own. When a burglar uses the phrase, "struck by lightning," he means that he was arrested by the police whilst engaged on his little job, through information conveyed through the telephone.

CANADA DOES NOT WANT ANY TITLES

Ottawa, Ont., May 23.—By a vote of 94 to 43 the house of commons late last night decided to ask the king "graciously to refrain" in the future from conferring titular distinctions upon persons living in Canada. This means that titles shall not be permitted to take root on Canadian soil.

All knightships hereditary titles and such decorations as C. M. G. and C. B. will be abolished should the king grant the request of the Canadian commoners.

The abolition of titled aristocracy in Canada is one of the direct influences of the war and one of the most striking evidences of the leveling influences of democracy.

There was great jubilation in the house when the measure carried after an all day debate which at times was at fever heat.

ESKIMO DOGS NOT VICIOUS

Writer Who Has Traveled in the Far North Found Them Friendly and Affectionate.

Eskimo dogs are supposed to be the direct descendants of the northern gray, or white wolf, which they greatly resemble. They are of various colors—black, white, brown, brindle and gray—and they weigh from 60 to 100 pounds. In the far North a team consists of from 8 to 12, each attached to the sled by a 16-foot rawhide trace. The advantages of this arrangement are obvious. Seated on the sled with a 25-foot whip, one can reach out and touch the back of every dog, thereby keeping him in his place and exerting him to keep his trace right. The disadvantages are the indirect pull of the dogs at the tips of the fan and the inevitable braiding of the traces into a rope as large as one's arm, the untangling of which at low temperature necessitates hours and hours of extreme discomfort.

"In my five years' work among these dogs I have failed to find the specie described by some writers as 'treacherous' or 'vicious' or 'ugly brute,'" writes Donald B. MacMillan, in his book, "Four Years in the White North." "On the contrary, the full-blooded Eskimo dog is one of the most affectionate in the world. A hundred or more were often about our door. My men passed in and out among them without the least fear. Two hundred and fifty were berthed on the deck of the Roosevelt. To walk forward it was often necessary to push them aside with the knees. No man, woman or child in the far North has ever been attacked, and not more than three or four of the whole tribe have ever been bitten."

ALPINE "SPORT" IN ENGLAND

Little Spot in Cumbrian Mountains Which Offers an Imitation of the Real Thing.

Few travelers, even those familiar with the by-ways, will think of England in connection with the sport of mountain climbing. Yet there is a bit of tumbled country in the west of England where a coterie of devotees of this perilous sport foregather annually at the Christmas season to get a taste of alpine work near home. The village of Wastdale Head, in the Cumbrian mountains, is the base of operations for these outdoorsmen who find their joy in scaling precipices with a forty foot rope about their waists and a hundred-yard drop below.

The village itself is one of the picturesque bits of old England which have not changed much in the last 500 years. Here you can attend services in what is probably the smallest church in the world—a tiny building with seats for twenty people. There is an inn, of course, with a battered signboard, which might have been modeled after a description from Dickens, except that it was flourishing some centuries before Dickens was born.

For eleven months in the year, neither the inn nor the church at Wastdale Head are crowded. But the landlord at the inn has booked his little rooms with low ceilings eight months ahead for the cold days of December. This is the season when the climbers gather, and the chance tourist who arrives at this time will probably sleep on the floor under the billiard table.

Unwise Business Men.

There be those who are ready to rush into great ventures on suspicion, as it were, not having made a careful and exhaustive survey of the situation, nor having counted the cost.

WHERE THE SALVATION ARMY WORKS

—A Day in Spring—

(The Salvation Army Home Service Campaign for $13,000,000 will be conducted during the week of May 19-26. It will spend every cent of this amount in the "Poverty Streets" of the United States.)

POVERTY STREET

The way lies crooked—winding 'round,
Ever descending—leading down
To alleys dark where children creep;
To gaudy halls where women weep;
In Poverty Street.

One path cuts through the gloomy way.
One woman walks it day by day.
Midst vice and squalor she alone
Calls to the weary—leads them home
In Poverty Street.

They call her "Angel of the Slums"
Ever devoted, on she comes
Ever consoling, gentle, kind
She lifts the fallen, leads the blind
In Poverty Street.

CHAMPIONS OF THE LOWLY PORKER TURNED OUT IN BIG BUNCHES

Porkers, your cause was truly championed!

What ho, the strife of battle and conquest, the internal dissension and the political tangles—ye lowly swine shall not be trampled upon, and your right as urbanites shall not be foregone.

It was with some such thought in mind as these that a delegation of about 30 colored folks, waited on the City Commission at the regular meeting, Thursday night, and it is to say the least that Mayor Arthur Whalen was busy as he explained to the indignant citizens that some one had been playing a practical joke on them.

The campaign for the porker was started when some one called up Gus

Roan, prominent colored man, and using the name of Arthur Whalen, mayor and commission member, informed him that the commission was intending to pass an ordinance prohibiting residents raising pigs within the city limits, at the meeting, on Thursday night. He hinted that a delegation should be on hand to frustrate the attempt against the rights of the swine.

The delegation was there. About 30 East End residents with blood in their eyes, assaulted the commission chamber. They came in groups, and Mr. Whalen would no sooner get through explaining to one group that the story was a fake, than another group would take its place.

Later, it was learned that these men were only the advance guard. A large crowd on its way to the meeting was met by these first informed on East Market street and informed of the joke.

Experimental.

"Dad," inquired a small boy, "what is a test case?" "A test case, my son," replied his parent, "is a case brought into court to decide whether there's enough in it to justify lawyers in working up more cases of a similar kind!"

Benefactor of Men.

The New York Sun's appreciation of the late Dr. Mary Walker contains this tribute: "One debt of gratitude men owe Doctor Walker which they ought not to forget. She was the inventor of the inside neckband on shirts which protects the flesh from being rubbed by the collar button."—Outlook.

A Mother's Happiness Made Perfect

Women Who Know Take Precaution Against Suffering.

Before the arrival of the women for over half a century have learned the wisdom of giving nature a helping hand. Nausea, nervousness, bearing down and stretching pains in the abdomen and muscles are entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, according to the testimony of thousands of mothers who have used this time-honored remedy.

Mother's Friend lubricates the fine network of nerves beneath the skin, and by regular use during the period the muscles are made and kept soft and elastic. They can then expand gently and easily when baby is born and pain and danger at the crisis is naturally avoided.

Mother's Friend is a preparation of penetrating oils and other medical agents prepared especially for expectant mothers. It is for external use, is absolutely safe and should be used regularly during the entire period before baby comes.

Write to the Bradfield Regular Company, Dept. A., Lamar Building Atlanta, Georgia, for an interesting Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist. You will find it the greatest kind of help.

WILL YOU HELP?

Mr. B. died from "flu" in December, leaving a wife and five children, under ten years of age. After funeral expenses were paid, this little wife was penniless. In January a baby was born.

Themother of this little family cannot at present earn any money. There is no money in the "Mothers' Pension Fund" for her. The relatives are doing all they possibly can to assist her. These little children are bright and attractive. The mother is worthy.

How many individuals or organizations will clothe one of these children?

For information about this family call Social Service League.

Original "Yeomen."

The title "yeoman" is of military origin, and the yeomen were so styled because, besides the weapons fit for close engagement, they fought with arrows and the bow, which was made of "yew," a tree that has more repelling force and elasticity than any other. After the Conquest the name of yeoman, as applied to their original office in war, was changed to that of archer.

Pugnacious Fish.

In Slam there are small fresh-water fish so pugnacious that when two of them are placed near each other they at once begin to fight. When the fish is quiet its colors are dull, but when excited it is of a metallic brilliance.

"TIN PLATE KING" NAMES RUSSIAN OFFICER IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Reid.

A man said to be a former captain in the Russian Army has been mentioned in connection with the suit for divorce recently filed in New York by Daniel G. Reid, the "tin plate king," against his beautiful young wife, Margaret M. Carere Reid, a former actress he married under romantic circumstances in Paris in 1910. Miss Carere, who came from Detroit, was Mr. Reid's third wife. Mr. Reid is sixty-one years old. He attained his present position in the financial world after a sensational rise from farmer boy. He was born in Richmond, Ind., and became interested in the tin plate industry in that state before coming to New York in 1899. His fortune is estimated at between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000.

For Fallen Arches.

Seeking relief from fallen arches, an engineer has invented a muscle strengthener with which the benefits of massage and exercise can be applied to the bottom of the foot. It consists of a series of wooden disks of varying diameters, mounted on a rod in such order that they thoroughly massage the entire sole when the foot is moved back and forth over them, causing them to revolve. It is claimed that this treatment not only tends to strengthen the muscles, but also stimulates circulation and gives relief after hard walking. It is designed for home or gymnasium use.

Chicken Fee for Marrying.

Everywhere chickens are a favorite contribution to the church, but in the Philippines this gift has a special meaning. When the missionary sees Alejo coming up the steps with a chicken under his arm he immediately begins to rehearse the vernacular for "Dear beloved, we are gathered together." And sure enough, the conversation about the mission's health and the weather and the crops always ends with: "Ah—ah—pastor—ah—could you marry me and Juanita—on Wednesday?"—Adeleide Lyons in World Outlook.

METHODISTS SCHEDULE CENTENARY CAMPAIGN WEEK OF MAY 18-25

Church Asks Funds For Adequate Program.

Both Home and Foreign Fields Considered in Great Survey. Some Churches Already "Over the Top."

Following the completion of the Victory loan the country will be interested in the largest drive for funds for religious extension work in history. This drive will be conducted by Methodist churches under the auspices of the Centenary movement, the week of May 18 to 25. The goal for the Methodist Episcopal Church is $115,000,000 and the goal of the Methodist Episcopal Church South is $85,000,000, a total of $200,000,000 to be devoted in the next five years to religious work at home in foreign countries and in western Europe.

In some parts of the United States their portion of the goal has already been achieved and various churches in the Cincinnati area (Ohio, Kentucky and southern Indiana) have completed their quota.

The Centenary campaign is based upon the most thorough religious survey ever made in the history of the world, and proposes to provide funds for an adequate program of religious work in the fields reached by the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Of the total of $115,000,000 which this church is to raise, $40,000,000 is to be devoted to the home field, touching the problems of the city, the country and the races; $40,000,000 is to be devoted to religious, educational and medical work on the foreign field, where thousands of millions are yet to hear the message of Christianity; $25,000,000 is to be devoted to war-reconstruction work, mostly in Europe, but in part at home; $10,000,000 is to be devoted to other branches of religious work. The program of the Methodist Episcopal Church South is in somewhat similar ratio.

The movement to secure such a large amount of funds has challenged the admiration of the country and no religious movement has received the attention that has been given the Centenary. From it has come an interchurch movement embracing 27 Protestant denominations, planning a program of co-operation for the presentation of Christianity's message to the world. This is expected to be by far the greatest religious extension movement in modern history.

The campaign nationally is directed by C. S. Ward, who holds the honor of having raised more money for great causes than any man in the world. He has been engaged personally in campaigns of local and national interest in which over $548,000,000 has been raised.

Mr. Ward says: "If you will show me a church that has lost its spiritual life by caring for its finances, I will show you a thousand churches that have lost their spiritual life by neglecting their finances."

ROOSEVELT AUTHOR AT NINE

Even at That Early Age, What Future President Had to Say Was Entertaining.

Theodore Roosevelt's first book, like many of his fifty odd later ones, dealt with natural history, but, unlike his later works, it was written entirely in pencil in an old notebook, an exchange states. Theodore was nine years old at the time. The title of the book is on the first page: "Natural History on Insects. By Theodore Roosevelt, Jr." Under it comes the "preface": "All these insects are native of North America. Most of the insects are not in other books. I will write about ants first." He did, and what he had to say about them is decidedly entertaining.

"Ants are divided into three sorts for every species. These kinds are officer, soldier and worker. There are about one officer to ten soldiers and one soldier to two workers." He tells about the common black ant and the brown path ant and various other kinds of ants; he tells about spiders and lady-bugs and fireflies and horned "beetles" and dragon flies and "milqueto" hawks. "All the insects that I write about in this book," he adds, "inhabit North America. Now and then a friend has told me something about them, but mostly I have gained their habits from observation."

The author of "natural history on insects" added to his volume a note or a crayfish. "I need not describe the form of a crayfish to you," he writes. "Look at a lobster and you will have its form."

WHERE THE SALVATION ARMY WORKS

—A Day in Spring—

(The Salvation Army Home Service Campaign for $13,000,000 will be conducted during the week of May 19-26. It will spend every cent of this amount in the "Poverty Streets" of the United States.)

POVERTY STREET

The way lies crooked—winding 'round,
Ever descending—leading down
To alleys dark where children creep;
To gaudy halls where women weep;
In Poverty Street.

One path cuts through the gloomy way.
One woman walks it day by day.
Midst vice and squalor she alone
Calls to the weary—leads them home
In Poverty Street.

They call her "Angel of the Slums"
Ever devoted, on she comes
Ever consoling, gentle, kind
She lifts the fallen, leads the blind
In Poverty Street.

CHAMPIONS OF THE LOWLY PORKER TURNED OUT IN BIG BUNCHES

Porkers, your cause was truly championed!

What ho, the strife of battle and conquest, the internal dissension and the political tangles—ye lowly swine shall not be trampled upon, and your right as urbanites shall not be foregone.

It was with some such thought in mind as these that a delegation of about 30 colored folks, waited on the City Commission at the regular meeting, Thursday night, and it is to say the least that Mayor Arthur Whalen was busy as he explained to the indignant citizens that some one had been playing a practical joke on them.

The campaign for the porker was started when some one called up Gus

Roan, prominent colored man, and using the name of Arthur Whalen, mayor and commission member, informed him that the commission was intending to pass an ordinance prohibiting residents raising pigs within the city limits, at the meeting, on Thursday night. He hinted that a delegation should be on hand to frustrate the attempt against the rights of the swine.

The delegation was there. About 30 East End residents with blood in their eyes, assaulted the commission chamber. They came in groups and Mr. Whalen would no sooner get through explaining to one group that the story was a fake, than another group would take its place.

Later, it was learned, that these men were only the advance guard. A large crowd on its way to the meeting was met by these first informed on East Market street and informed of the joke.

Experimental.

"Dad," inquired a small boy, "what is a test case?" "A test case, my son," replied his parent, "is a case brought into court to decide whether there's enough in it to justify lawyers in working up more cases of a similar kind!"

Benefactor of Men.

The New York Sun's appreciation of the late Dr. Mary Walker contains this tribute: "One debt of gratitude men owe Doctor Walker which they ought not to forget. She was the inventor of the inside neckband on shirts which protects the flesh from being rubbed by the collar button."—Outlook.

A Mother's Happiness Made Perfect

Women Who Know Take Precaution Against Suffering.

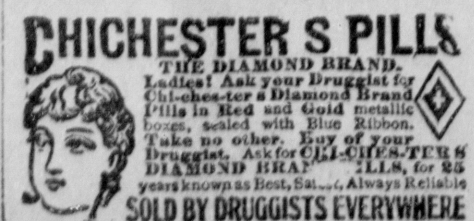

Before the arrival of the women for over half a century have learned the wisdom of giving nature a helping hand. Nausea, nervousness, bearing down and stretching pains in the abdomen and muscles are entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, according to the testimony of thousands of mothers who have used this time-honored remedy.

Mother's Friend lubricates the fine net-work of nerves beneath the skin and by regular use during the period the muscles are made and kept soft and elastic. They can then expand gently and easily when baby is born and pain and danger at the crisis is naturally avoided.

Mother's Friend is a preparation of penetrating oils and other medical agents prepared especially for expectant mothers. It is for external use, is absolutely safe and should be used regularly during the entire period before baby comes.

Write to the Bradfield Regular Company, Dept. A, Leamer Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for an interesting Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist. You will find it the greatest kind of help.

WILL YOU HELP?

Mr. B. died from "flu" in December, leaving a wife and five children, under ten years of age. After funeral expenses were paid, this little wife was penniless. In January a baby was born.

Themother of this little family cannot at present earn any money. There is no money in the "Mothers' Pension Fund" for her. The relatives are doing all they possibly can to assist her. These little children are bright and attractive. The mother is worthy.

How many individuals or organizations will clothe one of these children?

For information about this family call Social Service League.

Original "Yeoman."

The title "yeoman" is of military origin, and the yeomen were so styled because, besides the weapons fit for close engagement, they fought with arrows and the bow, which was made of "yew," a tree that has more repelling force and elasticity than any other. After the Conquest the name of yeoman, as applied to their original office in war, was changed to that of archer.

Pugnacious Fish.

In Slam there are small fresh-water fish so pugnacious that when two of them are placed near each other they at once begin to fight. When the fish is quiet its colors are dull, but when excited it is of a metallic brilliancy.

"TIN PLATE KING" NAMES RUSSIAN OFFICER IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Reid.

A man said to be a former captain in the Russian Army has been mentioned in connection with the suit for divorce recently filed in New York by Daniel G. Reid, the "tin plate king," against his beautiful young wife, Margaret M. Carere Reid, a former actress he married under romantic circumstances in Paris in 1910. Miss Carere, who came from Detroit, was Mr. Reid's third wife. Mr. Reid is sixty-one years old. He attained his present position in the financial world after a sensational rise from farmer boy. He was born in Richmond, Ind., and became interested in the tin plate industry in that state before coming to New York in 1899. His fortune is estimated at between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000.

Fon Fallen Arches.

Seeking relief from fallen arches, an engineer has invented a muscle strengthener with which the benefits of massage and exercise can be applied to the bottom of the foot. It consists of a series of wooden discs of varying diameters, mounted on a rod in such order that they thoroughly massage the entire sole when the foot is moved back and forth over them, causing them to revolve. It is claimed that this treatment not only tends to strengthen the muscles, but also stimulates circulation and gives relief after hard walking. It is designed for home or gymnasium use.

Chicken Fee for Marrying.

Everywhere chickens are a favorite contribution to the church, but in the Philippines this gift has a special meaning. When the missionary sees Adejo coming up the steps with a chicken under his arm he immediately begins to rehearse the vernacular for "Dear beloved, we are gathered together." And sure enough, the conversation about the mission's health and the weather and the crops always ends with: "Ah—ah—pastor—ah—could you marry me—and Juanita—on Wednesday?"—Adelaide Lyons in World Outlook.

METHODISTS SCHEDULE CENTENARY CAMPAIGN WEEK OF MAY 18-25

Church Asks Funds For Adequate Program.

Both Home and Foreign Fields Considered in Great Survey. Some Churches Already "Over the Top."

Following the completion of the Victory loan, the country will be interested in the largest drive for funds for religious extension work in history. This drive will be conducted by Methodist churches under the auspices of the Centenary movement, the week of May 18 to 25. The goal for the Methodist Episcopal Church is $115,000,000 and the goal of the Methodist Episcopal Church South is $35,000,000, a total of $150,000,000 to be devoted in the next five years to religious work at home in foreign countries and in western Europe.

In some parts of the United States their portion of the goal has already been achieved and various churches in the Cincinnati area (Ohio, Kentucky and southern Indiana) have completed their quota.

The Centenary campaign is based upon the most thorough religious survey ever made in the history of the world, and proposes to provide funds for an adequate program of religious work in the fields reached by the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Of the total of $115,000,000 which this church is to raise, $40,000,000 is to be devoted to the home field, touching the problems of the city, the country and the races; $40,000,000 is to be devoted to religious, educational and medical work on the foreign field, where thousands of millions are yet to hear the message of Christianity; $25,000,000 is to be devoted to war-reconstruction work, mostly in Europe, but in part at home; $10,000,000 is to be devoted to other branches of religious work. The program of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South is in somewhat similar ratio.

The movement to secure such a large amount of funds has challenged the admiration of the country and no religious movement has received the attention that has been given the Centenary. From it has come an interchurch movement embracing 27 Protestant denominations, planning a program of co-operation for the presentation of Christianity's message to the world. This is expected to be by far the greatest religious extension movement in modern history.

The campaign nationally is directed by C. S. Ward, who holds the honor of having raised more money for great causes than any man in the world. He has been engaged personally in campaigns of local and national interest in which over $548,000,000 has been raised.

Mr. Ward says: "If you will show me a church that has lost its spiritual life by caring for its finances, I will show you a thousand churches that have lost their spiritual life by neglecting their finances."

ROOSEVELT AUTHOR AT NINE

Even at That Early Age, What Future President Had to Say Was Entertaining.

Theodore Roosevelt's first book, like many of his fifty-odd later ones, dealt with natural history, but, unlike his later works, it was written entirely in pencil in an old notebook, an exchange states. Theodore was nine years old at the time. The title of the book is on the first page: "Natural History on Insects. By Theodore Roosevelt, Jr." Under it comes the "preface": "All these insects are native of North America. Most of the insects are not in other books. I will write about ants first." He did, and what he had to say about them is decidedly entertaining.

"Ants are divided into three sorts for every species. These kinds are officer, soldier and worker. There are about one officer to ten soldiers and one soldier to two workers." He tells about the common black ant and the brown path ant and various other kinds of ants; he tells about spiders and lady-bugs and fireflies and horned "beetles" and dragon flies and "mil squeto" hawks. "All the insects that I write about in this book," he adds, "inhabited North America. Now and then a friend has told me something about them, but mostly I have gained their habits from observation."

The author of "natural history on insects" added to his volume a note or a crayfish. "I need not describe the form of a crayfish to you," he writes. "Look at a lobster and you will have its form."

WANTED HIS "MONEYS PACK"

German Drummer Balked When He Started to Cross Old Bridge at Troy, New York.

Albany, N. Y., has a historical museum that contains, among other treasure, a bass drum dating back to the great influx of German immigrants which followed the revolution of 1848 in Germany, says Cartoons. This instrument was owned by the first of the wandering "hungry five" bands which appeared in this country after Marx and Engels, the industrious collaborators, wrote the communist manifesto.

The bass drummer was called "Thick Head" Schultz. According to a music teacher now living in Albany, who heard Schultz perform in the '80s, he could play in three different rhythms at once without making the band mad.

At Troy, ten miles up the Hudson river from Albany, was one of those long, old-fashioned inclosed wooden bridges, unlighted within, like a tunnel. Looking through it, as one approached, one saw a tiny spot of light at the far end, as if gazing through a telescope wrong end to.

One day the hungry brass band started across the bridge to play at a barn raising along the road westward. Schultz had paid the nickel toll when he happened to look through the long black space ahead. Then he balked.

"I want my money's pack," he insisted. "By tam, dere is no use my tryin' to dake dis drum t'rough dot little hole."

BRIGHT COLORS GIVE RELIEF

Simple Method by Which Desk Workers May Avoid Incalculable Injury to the Eyes.

The constant use of the eyes on white paper will in time weaken them and make it necessary to seek other employment, or resort to some remedy.

Bookkeepers, proofreaders and those compelled to gaze for hours at a stretch on a white surface, should have a number of bright colors on their desk or near at hand upon which the gaze should be allowed to rest at short periods when the mind is busy with some mental struggle.

The bright colors will give a relief to the long, constant strain on the eye, and it will be astonishing to those who have never resorted to any such remedy to note the relief secured.

Green should predominate. Yellow and red with shades of pink should be used.

Bright-colored blotters and bright-tinted mottoes or picture cards with birds and flowers as well as scroll designs will produce the most relief to weary eyes.

Even a bouquet with green foliage combined with the flowers will give satisfactory results, but this is not as permanent as brightly colored prints that will not fade for a long time.

Advice With Exceptions.

"Take the first job that offers. Do it with all your might. Your worth will soon be recognized by your employer, who will reward you with a 'raise' and with his daughter's hand, and you'll live happily ever after." The returning soldier is already being fed upon this truistic advice which successful old age delights to hand out as it were the sole "secret of success," which it isn't by a jugful. The wise young man, accepting the good will of counsel, discounts in his planning three counter-possibilities: (1) that the first job offered may not be one for which the applicant is adapted; (2) that the employer may not be the all-wise, sagacious, broad-minded person which the success books invariably post him as being; (3) that there either (a) may be no daughter or (b) she may prefer somebody else. With these and other similar qualifications the spirit of the work-hard-and-you'll-prosper wheeze still stands as admirable. — Lowell Courier-Citizen.

How to Braze Metals.

In brazing brass, copper, wrought iron and steel, clean the metal thoroughly at and near the joint to be brazed, by scraping or filing. Be sure to fit the edges closely together. If greater strength is required, lap the edges over each other about a quarter of an inch. A good plan is to rivet the edges together to hold them in place. Place brazing material along the joint. Take finely powdered borax, wet it with water and place a little along the seam. Put the article over a charcoal fire, joint down. Heat it slowly and evenly, holding it about an inch above the charcoal. When the brazing material is all melted, rap the part with a hammer, to induce the material to flow all through the joint. If the article is brass or copper, it should be plunged into cold water, and if steel or iron it should be allowed to cool slowly.

The New Wonder Bug.

Queer, is it not, that germs that cannot be seen with the finest microscope, and cannot be measured with the finest measurement, are so disposed? They live in street cars and omnibuses, and not in steam cars or sidewalks. They thrive in barber shops and not in dentists' offices. They inhabit churches and theaters alike, but not restaurants nor cafeterias. Queer, is it not, that these little bugs, so very little that they cannot be detected with the microscope, and that they can go through cement and even glazed dishes, are yet so large that they can be held back by the thin meshes of a handkerchief, or the thin stuff that goes into a musk?

SNOW FELL HERE ON MAY 22, THIRTY SIX YEARS AGO

Thirty-six years ago yesterday, there were three or four inches of snow on the ground. A Xenian who is able to stretch his memory back to that time is authority for this. He remembers that the cold snap was preceded by very warm weather, and that the green tops of the young corn showed above the snow. Also, he remembers that he and other "kids," who had been going barefoot, donned their shoes and stockings and went out that morning to snowball each other.

WENT COLONEL ONE BETTER

Occasion When Talkative Old Bore Met More Than His Match at the Club.

Several and various were the complimentary exclamations heard when the talkative Col. Chomondeley Fitz-Fulke strolled into the Back-to-Nature club one evening just in time to hear a discussion going on about the crows in the cornfields and their part in the winning of the war.

"Haw!" laughed the colonel remissly. "Speaking of crows reminds me of the time my father made a scarecrow out of me, egad!"

"Was it your father that did it, colonel?" asked Charlie Smithers, smilingly, followed by a snicker among the members.

"Er—ah—yes. You see, the crows in our cornfield became so used to our regular scarecrow that they grew quite fond of him. And they used to bring him grains of corn and deposit them in his pockets and cornucopie pipe. It was quite a beautiful and heart-melting sight, gentlemen," and the colonel flicked a sentimental tear from his eyelashes.

"Well, I conceived the idea of making a scarecrow that would snipe the crows and chase them away, doncheknow. So father decided to dress me up in some old tattered rags and have me snipe them. And, bah Jove, I frightened them so badly that they didn't return for a year, and then it was after they had seen me go abroad!" concluded the colonel, picking up Charlie Smithers' glass and emptying its contents.

"Huh! That's nothing," said Charlie. "My father made a scarecrow so fierce looking that seven of our crows that had stolen ten bushels of corn came back the next day and put every one back!"

It was several minutes before the colonel could control himself sufficiently to walk out amid the roar that arose.

CORTEZ' HOUR OF TRIUMPH

Impressive Scene When the Spanish Adventurer Met Emperor Montezuma of Mexico.

On the morning of November 8, 1519, the Spaniards were on the causeway which was one of the three to connect Tenochtitlan with the mainland, and so wide that eight of the Spanish cavalry could ride abreast on it. On all sides, in the road and in canoes on the lake, a crowd of Aztecs gazed at the descendants of the god who had at last, as they believed, carried out his promise. At the entrance to the city they were greeted by 1,000 principal citizens with salutations and kissing of hands to the bare earth; and then, after crossing a drawbridge, they saw approaching in a gorgeous litter none other than the great Montezuma, escorted by 200 of his courtiers.

Never has there been a more impressive scene in the history of the American continent than this meeting between the emperor of all Mexico and the Spanish adventurer. The picturesque surroundings, the silver-towered city rising from the gleaming lake, the countless hosts of gayly dressed subjects watching in awed silence, the magnificence of Montezuma and his train, the bronze, war-worn yet fiery appearance of the Spaniards—all these seem like a page from the "Arabian Nights" rather than sober history. The Spaniards, we may be sure, realized they were living a romance of the first order, and their hearts beat high with triumph, as with swords clanking and horses prancing they advanced into this city of legend.—From "Mexico," by Louise S. Hasbrouck.

Pegasus Afoot.

No need for a poet to starve in a garret nowadays. The fashionable girls' schools the country over offer him a profitable living. Poets are now the special exploitation of these schools. They are part of the curriculum. The schools may not provide so much inspiration as the garret and starvation, but reading the same poem over and over again to plastic minds is much more remunerative than matching rhymes and measuring feet. The modern verse maker, thanks to the schools, may live in a chateau and upon champagne, if he like. Chatterton died too soon.—New York Post.

Middle Aged Women

Women should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, shortness of breath, excessive nervousness, irritability, and the blues—which indicate the approach of the inevitable "Change" that comes to all women nearing middle age. We have published volumes of proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest aid women can have during this trying period.

Read About These Two Women:

Fremont, O.,—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run-down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and your Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman so I do all my own housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life."—Mrs. FRANK HESSON, 1216 South Orchard Street, Urbana, Ill.

LIBRARY NOTES

Twenty-five new books for the children's room have been received, a gift from Mrs. Vandervere Taylor, of Columbus.

Four popular new books have also been placed on the Pay Duplicate shelf.

Dawn, by Eleanor H. Porter. In Dawn, Mrs. Porter has struck a note that will vibrate to the depths of every reader's heart and created a character who will take his place beside Pollyanna. More than anyone else, Mrs. Porter gives back to us the joy of knowing that this is a beautiful world.

The Apartment Next Door, by William Johnston. The story graphically introduces some of the most ingenious methods employed by the Germans in their audacious plans of destruction and describes entertainingly the clever ways in which they were thwarted. Lovers of spy stories will be enthralled by this book, into which Mr. Johnston has dramatically woven such wonderful mysteries.

Judith of Blue Lake Ranch, by Jackson Gregory. This is an adventurous novel of the great plains; a novel of character as well as action, for Judith, the inheritor of a partnership in this great cattle ranch, is, with her executive talent and masterful nature, a distinct and fascinating individual.

His Friend, Miss McFarlane, by Kate Langley Boshier. A story of the south, of a mountain boy and a conventionally brought up girl, who rebels at the spirit of many of her friends who sneer at her for being in sympathy with the struggling poor. The lad determines at any cost to escape from his drunken step-father, and get an education; in a thrilling way he accomplishes this, meeting Miss McFarlane at the beginning of the adventure. From then on, their paths run side by side, the rich girl standing by the less fortunate boy on every occasion.

In the Philippines the number of plants used for medicinal purposes is very large. A few are recognized as sources of standard medicines, but the number having commercial value is decidedly small. From one, the St. Ignace bean (Strychnos ignatii), the strychnine of commerce is extracted.

The Peerless Pipeless Breathes a Welcome

As it is a well known fact that a pipeless will not give satisfaction under all conditions, we use the same Peerless Armco Iron Furnace with a pipe casing. We recommend the pipeless installation whenever it is practical. Our smallest furnace has a 24-inch combustion chamber and the fourth or largest size a 33-inch combustion chamber. Our fire pot is lined with fire brick, procurable at any lumber yard for a few cents each. Our riveted one-piece construction makes an air-tight furnace.

Where our furnaces and room heaters are used to heat school rooms it is the regular practice to bank the fire Friday night and find plenty of fire Monday morning.

Some of our customers report results equally as good.

We also make a cast-iron furnace that is the equal of any and has some distinctive features not found on others.

Of course we sell it at a cast-iron price.

NEARLY EVERYONE INTERESTED IN BOY SCOUT CAMPAIGN

Most everyone in this county has an interest in the Boy Scouts. This has been somewhat stimulated by the coming drive for associate memberships to be held during the week of June 8.

Some people, however, are not familiar with the high plane on which a Scout must stand. Every youth on becoming a Boy Scout takes this pledge:
On my honor I will do my best;
To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law;
To help other people at all times;
To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

The General's Drop.

I have been told this story of a "flying" general, who has had experience as a parachutist. A few days ago he was a passenger in an airplane going north. After a while he picked up a village where he intended to stop for a day or two, and informed the pilot, who at once signified his intention of making a landing. "Oh! Don't stop!" shouted the general, and he proceeded to attach himself to a parachute and his suitcase to another. He dropped the case overboard and then stepped off himself. General and suitcase floated down gently and safely to earth, while the airplane continued its flight.—Exchange.

Why Spinsters.

The reason that unmarried ladies are called spinsters is that formerly women were prohibited from marrying until they had spun a complete set of ed linen. If the same rule prevailed today what a falling off there would be in the marriage rate!

How Fat Folks May Become Thin

If you are suddenly becoming stout, or if you have been putting on flesh for years, the cause is generally the same—lack of oxygen carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs mostly in men and women over thirty, but it may be easily treated and without any of the privations most fat people imagine necessary to reduce their weight. Simply go to your druggist and get a box of Phynola. Take five grains after each meal and at bedtime. Wonderful results should be quickly accomplished by this simple treatment. Be sure, however, you get the genuine Phynola. It is put up in original sealed packages, is pleasant to take and gives prompt results. Sayre & Hemphill can supply you.

MUCH LIKE OLD-WORLD CITY

Capital of State of Washington Has Retained Impression Given It by Its Builders.

Those who had the naming of mountains and cities of the Northwest chose with a lavish hand from the names of gods and goddesses of mythology, and Indian tribes. The Olympic mountains might well have been those from which Jove hurled his thunder. And the sylvan town of Olympia, the capital of the state of Washington, seems more fitting for the temples of Greece than for those of lawmaking of an American state.

With the exception, possibly, of Annapolis, Maryland, no state in the Union has chosen such an old-world appearing hamlet for its capital, a town almost segregated from the outside world. At the end of a wonderfully beautiful waterway, deep-seated in the hills and forests, Olympia has none of the atmosphere of politics and big business.

The town is a very small one, so small indeed that the average overland train would not even hesitate as it passed through. Its water front until recently, has been adorned with pleasure craft, fishing fleets and cannery boats. The fjords of Puget sound afford unlimited opportunities for fishing and pleasure excursions.

Here loggers and lawmakers have met in the past to solve the mighty problems of legislation and lumbering. Here cannery boats tied up in winter for overhauling. Here in time long past men tramped in from Tacoma and Seattle with supplies which they could not wrest from nature, on their backs.

The town climbs a short distance into the surrounding hills from the water front, and then stops. The state capitol resembles a dignified seat of learning in northern Europe; in fact nearly all Northwest buildings bear the stamp of the home of their builders, the Scandinavians, Scottish and English settlers.

FINE TREES IN PHILIPPINES

Nowhere Are There More Enormous Trunks Than in the Lowlands of the Islands.

Until we fell heir to the Philippine Islands we had no dense virgin tropical forests belonging to the United States. The Hawaiian Islands are well within the tropics, but the topography of the islands is not such as to induce the gigantic growth of trees. There are no denser or more enormous tree-groves anywhere in the world, however, than are to be found over great areas of the Philippine lowlands. The soil is of excessive richness, the rainfall is heavy, and the climate combines to induce a riotous tangle of vegetation which is unimaginable to those who have not actually seen it or are familiar only with the orderly and usually comparatively scant growths of the temperate zone. Even the great forests of the far West, which cut more board feet to the acre than any other forest lands in the world, cannot compare for a moment in luxuriance and profligacy of growth with the tropical forest. They impress you, it is true, with having been many centuries in the making, but on the other hand the rank and enormous growths of the lowland tropics make you feel that they have always been there since the world commenced. The northern forests are reposeful; the tropical jungle is savage, overwhelming.—Exchange.

Macaulay's Lapse.

The taste for oriental and for European china is a widespread one. Queen Mary, the wife of William of Orange, seems to have had one of the first great collections of Chinese porcelain. An entry in Evelyn's diary for June 12, 1623, describes how he "saw the queen's rare cabinets and collection of china, which was wonderfully rich and plentiful." Macaulay has a very unsympathetic allusion to the matter, for he tells how the queen "amused herself by forming at Hampton court a vast collection of hideous images;" a curiously inept piece of criticism.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS LINED UP FOR SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Campaign Headquarters for the Salvation Army drive is still working to get an all-county organization ready for the big drive next Monday. At a meeting of ex-soldiers from Xenia township, held in the rooms of the Xenia Business Men's Association, Wednesday night, Chairman S. G. Phillips addressed the volunteer workers who responded and lined them up for the big drive.

The sum asked for in this county—$5,000—is so small that the campaign headquarters feels that this county, which personal solicitation has proven to be loyal to the core to the Salvation Army, will far exceed the quota assigned.

The quota in Xenia township is $1,500, and it is thought that at least twice this amount could be raised by earnest co-operation from the people.

Ex-soldiers are prominent in the organization which is carrying on the work, they being in a position to appreciate and understand the work of this wonderful organization better than anyone else.

How Each Nation Decorates Its Men for Bravery in War — The Valor of Our Boys.

Copyright, 1919, The International Syndicate

It has been customary for time immemorial to award some tangible symbol of bravery and heroism.

It is done in the ordinary course of affairs for some extraordinary feat of achievement which has been accomplished and philanthropists have subscribed large sums of money to procure medals or other evidences of brave deeds so that those who risk life and limb for some just cause or to rescue someone from danger may be rewarded for their courage. Human nature seems to respond in that way in the recognition of unusually conspicuous meritorious conduct. It finds expression with equal readiness, whether the heroism is in the walks of life where the general public is benefited or in private affairs where the benefit may be an individual.

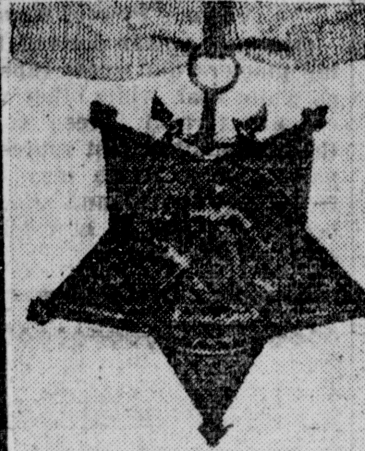

The high conception of the purpose of such rewards is fully maintained in its application to deeds of heroism and sacrifice in the great conflict just ended. Hundreds of our boys are receiving medals from other countries as well as our own and the brotherhood of man has never been shown to such an extent as in the deeds which have merited these rewards.

The fearlessness of our boys amazed the officers of the other countries, not because there were not brave men among their own soldiers but because these fresh young patriots from America were not tired like their own men, but were eager and ready for the fray at any time. They fought side by side with the British, French and Italians and their never-say-die spirit encouraged these men who for three years

Of course, of the foreign honor medals England's Victoria Cross was the most coveted and even before the United States entered the war so many of our men had fought both in the British Army and the Canadian and shown such great bravery that many of them had been decorated.

The Victoria Cross was instituted in 1856; the Distinguished Service Order in 1886; the Military Cross on January 1st, 1915. The Distinguished Conduct Medal in 1854 and the Military Medal in April, 1916. The Victoria Cross is conferred for military or naval service of unique valor or for personal bravery of an unusual degree. It carries with it and implies right to a pension and by British law may never be taken from the recipient under any condition whatever. There is but one class of this medal but when conferred upon a naval man it has a blue ribbon while when given to the Army it hangs from a purple ribbon. In former wars only 182 in all were given out. During the present war a much larger number were awarded for never in the history of the world have men shown such acts of bravery and the achievements of soldiers in all former wars were completely overshadowed. The Victoria Cross is given to both officers and privates.

The Croix de Guerre

The Croix de Guerre of France was established on April 8th, 1915. There are four classes of this, the first one being for mention in regimental orders and for each subsequent citation is added a star, or a wreath for air service.

Major General John A. Lejeune, the popular commander of the Second Division of the Marine Corps, received this medal, the presentation being made after the armistice was signed, at Leutesdorf, Germany.

Italy, Belgium and Serbia

The Order of the Crown of Italy was founded in 1868 by King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. It is of five classes and may be awarded for any distinguished service to the nation in war or peace. It has been conferred upon several Americans.

The Italian Military Medal, an award brought about by the recent war, was recently sent to the mothers of the first two Americans whose bravery deserved it. Both were killed. The Italian military attaché in Washington made the presentation; the two women receiving the medals were Mrs. James Cummings Barr, of New York, and Mrs. William Davenport Platt, of Baltimore.

Belgium has a medal for meritorious service for the present war. It was instituted by King Albert in 1915, and is known as the Belgium Cross de Guerre. This, like the Italian decoration has been won by a few Americans.

Sergeant Ruth Farnan, an English woman, the first one to hold a command in the Serbian Army, has been decorated with the Order of Kara-george, founded in 1904 by King Peter of Serbia. It is conferred with a sword for specially meritorious service in the Serbian Army. It is especially beautiful, being made of gold and enamel and hung with red ribbon. This lady also received two lesser decorations for bravery under fire.

Our Own Medal for Valor

Naturally every country has its reward for merit for brave deeds done in war and our own country has its United States Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism—the most coveted of all decorations of our boys. This may be given to men of all ranks. A private in the performance of his duties as a runner was obliged to travel over a road which was under constant and heavy shell fire, but he succeeded in delivering a message to his commanding officer, which enabled the latter to so place his guns that a direct fire, was made. A major general in utter disregard for danger was such an inspiring example to his men that it resulted in the crossing of the Aire and the capture of Grand Pre and St. Juvin. Both men received the United States Distinguished Service Cross.

Almost every day the United States Official Bulletin published by the government chronicles the bravery of men who are named by General Pershing to receive this honor. They come from no special part of the country and their home addresses show that the men from California and New York and the ones from Minnesota and Florida, have all given wonderful exhibition of bravery. They are officers and privates and Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus men all doing their duty fearlessly. The two latter in many instances helped to reorganize stretcher bearers after the greater part of their companies had been killed and in this way saved many lives. It seems to have been the chief delight of the Huns to bomb Red Cross hospitals and roads over which the wounded were compelled to pass. A recital of the brave deeds of our boys would fill volumes, and it is hoped that when all the awards are made that they will be published so that all may read how these young men of all classes and conditions went forth to clear the world of militarism and although many lost their lives in so doing, how admirably they succeeded.

First Woman To Win Medal

The first woman to win the American Army Distinguished Service Medal was Miss Beatrice MacDonald of the Reserve Nurse Corps, who was seriously wounded while remaining at her post with wounded men at a British Casualty Station during a German raid. Miss MacDonald lost one of her eyes through her devotion to her patients. Secretary Baker made the presentation to the fearless nurse at the War Department in Washington.

Recently a number of civilians have been given medals for the part they have taken in furnishing the snows of war. Among them is Edward R. Stettinius who is seen in the picture being decorated by Secretary Baker.

ed States which are most coveted by the men are known under four names. Of course, there are various medals for sharpshooting, marksmanship, etc., but the four shown are the "real" honors from the Government.

The Distinguished Service Cross is a bronze Maltese cross with rounded knobs on the end. In the center there is an eagle with outstretched wings, and just below it the words, "For Valor" are engraved. It is also hung from a red, white and blue ribbon, the blue being in the center and bearing a bronze oak leaf.

The Distinguished Service Medal is a wreath of blue enamel, which bears in gold the words, "For Distinguished Service." There is a bronze eagle in the center. The medal hangs from a red, white and blue ribbon of a curious pattern. The white stripe predominating.

There are two medals awarded by Congress—one to the soldiers and another type to the sailors. They are given for gallantry in action and were adopted by that body in 1905.

The one for the Army consists of a five pointed star of rose gold finish. On the medallion in the center is the head of Minerva in bold relief, surrounded by a band bearing the inscription "United States of America." Upon each point of the star, which is encircled by a green enamel wreath, is an oak leaf. Surrounding the whole is an eagle resting on a bar bearing the words "For Valor." The decoration is hung from a blue silk watered ribbon upon which there are thirteen white stars.

The Congressional Medal of Honor for the Navy is a bronze five pointed star with a medallion in the center of Justice helping the fallen. It is hung by a bronze anchor attached to a bow of watered blue ribbon decorated with stars.

The name of the recipient of the medal is engraved upon the reverse side of each of the medals. They are given to both officers and privates.

A Wild Adventure

By WALTER JOSEPH DELANEY

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

About once a year Nancy, wife of Aleck Forbes, had "a tantrum." Looking back over a full decade, Aleck could recall many of these fitful spells. For a day or two Nancy was unmanageable, complaining, nagging. Suddenly the spell would disappear and Nancy would be "good as pie!" She never expressed penitence, and the renewed sun of her graciousness made Aleck forget to allude to her spasm of ill nature.

"I don't dare to face her!" he groaned. "She's due for her regular outbreak. If not, what I have done will hasten it. Oh, dear! The loss of the two hundred dollars worries me, but when I think of what Nancy will say about it I'm scared!"

This had happened: Aleck had collected two hundred dollars. Nancy knew all about the transaction and was to have half of the sum to buy a new set of furniture. About four o'clock Aleck had come home, found her absent and had loitered about town.

Returning, he had made an appalling discovery. He had lost the money! Hastily he retraced his way but found no trace of the missing roll of bank notes. His heart sank to his boots. He dared not face Nancy. A new suggestion came to him. He would take the first train for Adrian, where lived a brother who might loan him two hundred dollars, but the last local for the day was gone when he reached the railroad station.

As he passed the village garage he recognized a farmer just ready to start out. The man could take him as far as the cross roads, four miles from Adrian. The automobile was an open roadster, the evening was chilly and Aleck had felt his chronic hoarseness coming on by the time he reached the cross roads. He was stiff and shivering as he started on his long walk. This side of Adrian, about two miles, Aleck made out the lights of the little town of Leesville. He started a short cut in the dark, got mired in a swampy stretch, fell over a great log and lay insensible for nearly half an hour.

When Aleck regained consciousness he could not find his hat, he limped from a sprained ankle, he could feel a great abrasion on one side of his face and, a thoroughly wretched and nerve-racked being, he reached the road to be nearly run down by an automobile containing some wild spirits bound in the opposite direction. He had not proceeded half a mile when he came across a hat, evidently blown off the head of one of the hilarious crowd. It was a soldier's hat, with the regulation band about it. Aleck was glad to put it on. Then he made for the gleaming village lights. With chattering teeth and shaking limbs he made for a brightly lighted room at the rear of what seemed to be the town billiard parlor. Half a dozen young fellows stared at him as he bolted in upon them, craving warmth and well nigh exhausted.

Aleck must have fainted away, for when he again opened his eyes some one was pouring a powerful stimulant down his throat. A sense of rare relief and comfort came over his befogged consciousness.

"He's a soldier," spoke an unsteady voice, "you can see that by his hat. Say, fellows, our expected chum from the front hasn't shown up. We'll show the honors of war to this hero, eh? Here, old fellow, we're going to banquet you. See? Up to the groaning table with the victim," and Aleck was carried to a chair before a bewildering supper layout. He tried to speak. He could not. Only a hoarse monotone responded to the effort. His old ailment was upon him, he had temporarily lost his voice.

"Hey! give me a text for a speech," nudged the lively young fellow beside him, amid the jangling of glasses. "Voice gone, my friends, evidently from exposure in the trenches. Here, write something," and given pencil and paper, Aleck wrote:

"Treated rough."

"Ah! my friends," cried the orator grandiloquently, "they treated him rough over there!"

"Lost in a swamp, crippled!" "Think of his sufferings in behalf of his beloved country! He's getting another chill. Prime him up with another dose!"

Now Aleck could never remember how he got back home, but, carrying the banquet bouquet, he entered the house the next morning. Nancy stared at him, astonished.

"Flowers for you," croaked Aleck.

"You've been drinking!" said Nancy seriously.

"They poured it down me. I wasn't responsible. I lost that $200—"

"Well, I found it in the kitchen. I've taken my share, yours is in the clock. Now give an account of yourself."

It sobered Aleck. It delighted him to hear the merry laughter of Nancy as he detailed his adventures.

"So you were afraid of me!" she said.

"Well, after this, when I feel a spell coming on, I'll go and stay with my sister till it's over. You poor man! To fall in with that bibulous crowd of reckless rolsters. You must sign a pledge as an evidence of good faith, and next time you feel afraid of me come and tell me your ridiculous story over again, and its very funniness will make me good natured!"

JAMESTOWN

The Jamestown High School commencement Wednesday evening, in the Jamestown opera house, was the prettiest and most interesting in years.

From the time the curtain rose on an exquisite stage setting until the evening closed, the large audience was pleased and interested. With a tropical garden scene as a setting for the tropical plants, ferns and rubber trees which served as a background for the nine girls and five boys, with in front and on each side a low fence wound with greenery and yellow roses—the class flower—and over all an immense arch of greenery and roses which mounted to the top of the stage, where the class flag was hung, it was a scene of beauty. The valedictory, given by Junita Bullock, was a thoughtful, well rendered address, which connected war days with the reconstruction period.

The cornet solo, given by Miss Lucille Lorrimer, was well received. The Class Prophecy, by Miss Kathryn Long, which predicted the fate of each one, according to the horoscope, was most unusual as to composition, wit, truth, and was well given.

The Class Will, given by Rufus Sanders, was well rendered and was a charming bit of mingled pathos, humor, a tribute to the teachers and a promise of loyalty to the school.

Ralph Ferguson rendered "Beyond the Deep," in a fitting manner.

The Class Poem, given by Miss Claudv Convey, was a splendid model of blank verse, and brought into its text the name of each member of the class, who were staged in favorable places.

Prof. Martzoff of Athens, gave an interesting address, after which Prof. Arnold in a few well chosen remarks presented the diplomas, taking at this time the opportunity of giving Miss Junita Bullock a most beautiful tribute for her scholarship and faithfulness during the four years spent in the school.

Miss Junita was presented with a scholarship to the Ohio Wesleyan College. Other scholarships were as follows:

Miss Dorothy Ross, Wittenberg.
Miss Lucille Lorrimer, Monmouth.
Mr. Rufus Sanders, Wilmington College.

Various Powers Derived.

Only the power derived from melting glaciers and snow caps is known as white coal, while other water powers are termed "green coal." But there is another vast source of power, namely, that which may be derived from the waves and tides of the ocean; and this is now termed "blue coal."

Fordsons Will Stand the Gaff

For 1500 hours—almost sixty-one days and nights—a Fordson Motor was run at the Dearborn Factory of Henry Ford & Son, Inc., at the rate of 2000 revolutions per minute, or just twice the normal speed.

The test represented three years of actual work in the hands of the Fordson owner. What was the RESULT?

The wear on any wearing part was so small that it could not be measured with any ordinary measuring instrument.

What does this evidence of
